Diatomic Hydrogen Water: So Simple Yet So Powerful

Two simple elements: oxygen and hydrogen. Combined they create water, the remarkable substance that forms the basis of life. Water cleans, nourishes and hydrates. Water provides balance to our cells. Water is so elemental that our search for habitable planets depends on its presence. Water gives life, but what if it could also transform your life?

What if it were possible to supercharge water by using nothing but the elements that make up water? Hydrogen is the smallest and simplest of all of the elements, but it contains great power. Fusing two hydrogen atoms together releases the power of the sun. Binding two atoms produces diatomic hydrogen, or  $H_2$ . By simply splitting water into its components, we can infuse water with diatomic hydrogen and on a smaller scale, its benefits are just as miraculous.

Hydrogen - Mighty Atom of Enormous Power

Hydrogen has amazing antioxidant capabilities. Diatomic Hydrogen readily dissociates (separates) into two slightly charged atoms that are remarkably good at binding to the free radicals created from oxidation and oxidative stress and neutralizing them. Being the smallest of all of the atoms, hydrogen is able to permeate into every part of the body, including through the blood brain barrier. Why is this so important? It allows hydrogen to neutralize free radicals in places that most antioxidants can't go.

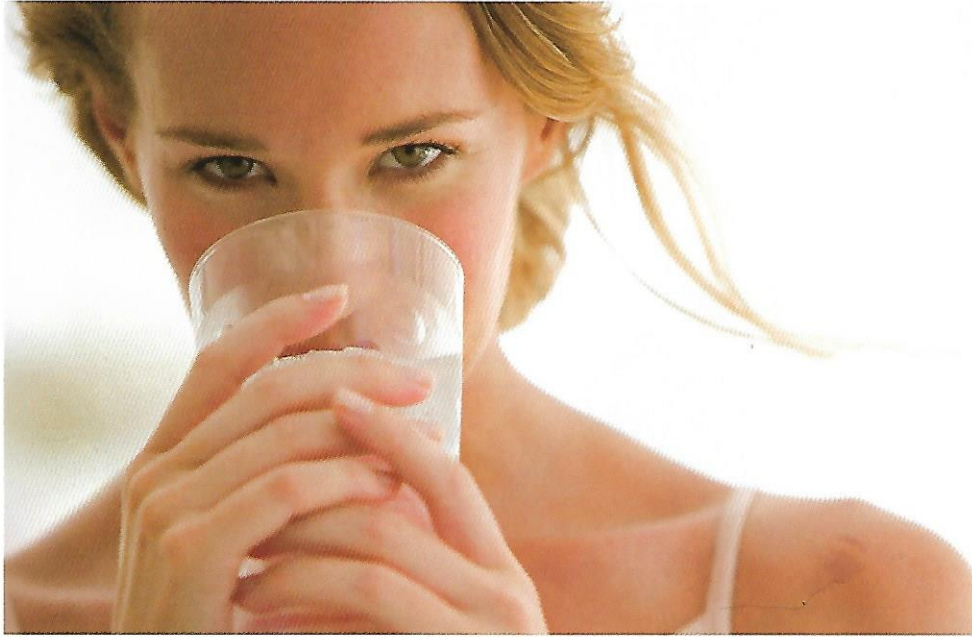

Science is now discovering of the power of diatomic hydrogen and its wonderful effects upon our health. Over 600 peer reviewed studies have been published on the benefits of diatomic hydrogen, ranging from its superb antioxidant capabilities to its remarkable ability to increase energy and reduce recovery time after exercise. Proven advantages include:

	Increases antioxidant levels
	Helps improve energy levels
 	Improves recovery time after exercise
	Neutralizes free radicals
	Reduces oxidative Stress
	Helps promote cellular health
	Supports cellular signaling
	Helps maintain catalase, glutathione, and super oxide dismutase levels

SupraH<sub>2</sub> Technological Breakthrough

The SupraH<sub>2</sub> Water Systems are designed specifically to supercharge normal tap water and produce powerful hydrogen-infused water. Great water starts with...great water. So the SupraH<sub>2</sub> has a multi-faceted two-step filtration system built in to remove impurities and chemicals from your water. This purified water is pumped into a hydrogen generator that uses a proton exchange membrane to separate the hydrogen and infuse it back into the water. The result is clean, fresh tasting water that is packed with all of the power of diatomic hydrogen!

What Customers Think of the SupraH<sub>2</sub>
