Deep Heat for Stress Relief Cream

Deeply penetrating relief for muscle and joint pain

Fast-acting, long-lasting Thermarol deeply penetrates to soothe sore joints and muscles. Its dual-action warming agents work together to ease tension and loosen stiffness before, during, and after activity.

Whether you're on the job, or doing jobs around the house, apply Thermarol to your back, shoulders, hands and knees before getting down to business. Keep a tube by your bedside to use first thing in the morning or to help you relax at night. You'll not only feel better, but Thermarol may help to ease tension and loosen stiffness.*

If your work is physically demanding and requires moderate to heavy lifting or repeated motions, you will love Thermarol's warming comfort. If your job is physically sedentary, but a pressure cooker of tight timelines and endless decision making, relax the tension in your neck and shoulders that leads to stress headaches. Keep a tube at your desk to use on your break.

Thermarol can be used as a pre-activity cream that loosens muscles and joints, and a post-activity cream that eases recovery. Cetyl myristoleate offers significant support to lubricity in joints. Rub Thermarol deep into muscles and on joints 10–30 minutes before activity to warm up, help your muscles relax, and make your workout more enjoyable. After your workout, or after any prolonged or intense stress or strain, heat up a therapeutic massage for deep stress relief.*

Warming agents Vanillyl Butyl Ether (VBE) and Wintergreen Oil heat in two distinct ways. VBE supports the receptors at the nerve endings to produce a perceived heating sensation, without an actual temperature change.<sup>(1)</sup> VBE goes to work immediately—warmth can be felt within five minutes and lasts up to two hours. Wintergreen Oil fights fire with fire, acting as a counterirritant that draws attention away from another irritation or ache. It causes dilation of the capillaries and an increase in blood circulation... and it has a pleasant fragrance.<sup>(2)</sup>
